

RELEASE DATE: September 18, 2018

CNC students connect with community through downtown experience

PRINCE GEORGE – A unique exploration of Prince George’s downtown culture is opening for College of New Caledonia students this fall thanks to an exciting new partnership with Downtown Prince George.

CNC Explores Downtown PG is the first collaboration event welcoming students to discover the vibrant nature of their own community.

“Partnerships are integral to creating a vibrant student life within our northern B.C. campuses communities,” said Alyson Gourley Cramer, CNC Executive Director of Communication. “We are grateful to Downtown Prince George and all the restaurants who have come together to make this wonderful experience available to CNC students.”

On Thursday, Sept. 20, 2018, CNC Explores Downtown PG takes more than 40 CNC students through an urban exploration with a tasting tour of a multitude of downtown mainstays, including Betulla Burning, Kask, CrossRoads Brewing, Black Clover, North City Donair, The Copper Pig, and Cornerstone Kitchen and Lounge.

Students dabble in the eats of three restaurants before convening at EXITPG and Black Diamond Bowl & Billiards for an hour of entertainment. Students are encouraged to continue the downtown by visiting Sonar Comedy and NightClub, The Black Clover, Kask, Nancy O’s and Alibi’s Show Lounge, which are all open late.

“This is a great opportunity for students to meet new friends and discover the amazing food and entertainment downtown Prince George has to offer,” said Leah Likes, Recruitment Officer at CNC.

Downtown Prince George is excited to be partnering with CNC to bring this unique urban exploration to students.

“Prince George has a thriving downtown core that’s really worth exploring,” said Colleen Van Mook, Executive Director of Downtown Prince George.

-30-

For more information:

Dustin Ruth
Media Relations, Communications
College of New Caledonia
ruthd1@cnc.bc.ca | 778-349-0597