About the College of New Caledonia

The College of New Caledonia (CNC) offers international students a Canadian education in the heart of beautiful British Columbia. As a mid-sized college, CNC provides a safe and supportive environment to begin international studies.

CNC was established in 1969 as a public post-secondary institution, funded and certified by the provincial government of British Columbia, Canada. CNC is a comprehensive community college that offers the first two years of 40 university majors, as well as numerous college diploma and certification programs in business, technology, health sciences, and trades. Programs and courses at CNC are recognized and respected by universities, colleges, business, and industry. The most popular programs for international students are English Language, University Transfer, Engineering, Business Management Studies, and Post Diplomas in Human Resources Management, Information Technology, and Tourism and Hotel Management.

English Language Training (ENLA)

CNC is a great place to develop skills in a multi-cultural setting, while learning and improving English language skills. CNC instructors are highly qualified and have a long history of teaching English to students from around the world. Our ENLA program, which is accredited by the Canadian Language Council, includes instruction in conversation, grammar, reading and writing. (4 levels of ENLA are available and placement is based on CNC testing upon arrival)

Students are assessed and placed at the appropriate level before being enrolled in classes. Students who complete lower levels are able to progress to higher levels.

Students who progress to higher levels are able to choose one or two academic-level courses. Academic-level courses are transferable to select Canadian Universities.

Accommodation & Transportation

CNC has an established Homestay Program that allows students to live with a Canadian family and learn first-hand about Canadian culture and make Canadian friends. Students will be placed with a family that matches the students interests and needs. Homestay families are responsible for picking up their students at the airport upon arrival and taking them back to the airport on their day of departure. The cost of Homestay includes three meals a day, a private bedroom and study area, plus a shared bathroom, kitchen and laundry facilities. All Homestays are located either within walking distance or a short bus ride (30 minutes) to campus.

The CNC Advantage

The Canadian Experience

Prince George, the northern capital of British Columbia, offers students a wide range of indoor and outdoor activities. Students can enjoy sporting events, concerts, theatre performances, local art galleries, live theatre, local parks and much more! The College is centrally located to shopping and banking district where students will discover a variety of restaurants, cafés and shopping centres. The Pine Centre Mall, located in close proximity to the college, is an indoor mall with many shops where students can find clothing, sports equipment, books, computer and technology supplies, and anything else they may need.

International students are provided with many opportunities to lead or participate in cultural and other activities during their time at CNC. Our Student Engagement Coordinator will ensure all students are given the opportunity to experience the best Prince George has to offer.

“My favourite thing about CNC is the teaching style.”

- PEI LI,
CHINA

“CNC is a great option to continue studying and develop knowledge and skills in different areas depending on your interest. CNC's staff are extremely helpful and can assist you with any issues you encounter. It's an amazing place to make friends from all over the world with different points of views and cultures.”
