

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

The oldest barn on the Thony's farm believed to have been built by the Pooley Bros

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

The second barn at Thony's believed to have been built by Albert Deit

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Helen and Otto Gabrielson

Courtesy of Bud Gabrielson

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

The Gabrielson house as it is now

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Farr's cabin

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Lindstedts house built in 1919 and also lived in by Nordgrens now restored by John Dougherty

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Timbered barn built by Balaski. It is on the Bosnich farm

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Old barn at Wiebes. Note the long heavy beam log at top of wall

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Lund Family 1912

Left to right: Lily, Martha, Carl Gustav (father), Davida, Anna (mother) and Gerda
Front: Twins Gustav and Carl, and Herbert

Courtesy of Gus Lund

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

The Lund barn, changed over the years

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Gus and Margaret Lund's wedding 1931

Courtesy of Gus Lund

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Lars Grinde's barn

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

House built by Philip DeSaulle

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Austen and Emma Pinko's old barn

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Myrtle and Raymond Pinko's barn

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

George Pinko's hay shed on Pinko Road

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

George and Olive Matters 1948

Courtesy of John Matters

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

George and Olive Matters barn on Pinko Road

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Outhouse on George and Olive Matters old farm

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Olive Matters with twin lambs

Courtesy of John Matters

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Walter Turner house, corner of Pinko and Taborview

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Barn built by Sanford van Buskirk on Taylor place

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

The Taylor family

Left to right: George, Teddy, Gordon, Letitia, Alfred, Bessie and Cecil. Missing is Willie
Courtesy of Ruby Taylor

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Small shed carefully built by Bloomquist on his original quarter.

Sveya Anchikoski used it for a wash house and kept the washing machine in it

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Small log building of Ernie Bloomquists that had been pulled over to the Taylors

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Cabin built by Bloomquist on the quarter of land next to Taylors

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking
Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Frank and Lettie Bowan's shed or chicken house (on the Bieches property)

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

Ignac Vohar demonstrating how the seed cleaner works. Larry Anderson standing nearby

From Broadaxe to Clay Chinking Chapter 18: Pineview Area

The hopper that the grain feeds into (1927 seed cleaning plant)