Third day of Northworks:

CNC and UNBC will be offering a third day of NorthWorks (March 7th) this year to employers who will be attending the career fair at no additional cost. This extra day was created with the intention of building stronger relationships between industries and our institutions. With this goal in mind, our third day will focus on the skills students develop through their post-secondary experience and how they apply to employment. In addition, providing employers and students the opportunity to meet and discuss career options within their organization.

If you would like to sign up for this third day tick the box below and we will contact you with further details.
